Lucky Thirteenth Man.
"Frederick, I'm sure you will forgive me," said the beautiful girl, bowing her head, "when you know the true reason of my breaking our engagement so soon. But when I became engaged to you I forgot—"
"What is it, Gladys?" he murmured sadly. "Be not afraid. Is it that you love another?"
"No, indeed," responded the girl indignantly, her eyes flashing at him through a veil of tears. "But you know how superstitious I am—I forgot that you would be exactly the thirteenth man I've been engaged to."

Restful Exercise.
A hint for the tired housewife when there's no time for napping: Lie flat on the floor—a bed or couch won't do—for 15 minutes.
Exhale and continue to relax and, when the time is up you'll feel altogether different.
Do not put a pillow or anything else under the head.

Obstinate.

FRILLS FOR THE NECK

REMARKABLY DAINY IDEAS HAVE BEEN EVOLVED.

Beads Are to Play a Large Part in the Styles—Popular High Girdle of All Sorts of Materials and Designs.

Dainty, frilly, dashing, capricious, mischievous—get out the adjective box in speaking of the season's new neckwear! First of all, of course, we have the organdy collars, with their foundation of a vestee. Some of these are run through the neck with inch-wide black ribbon and others—some very new ones—are bound with a bit of color—rose, blue or lavender.

Among the most charming of late devices is a rather elaborate bit whose tiny yoke, set off with French knots in light blue, is repeated in a wide belt intended to show with the open jacket. This belt, of course, is a very frugal one and extends only across a short portion of the front. It is set off by a little lace-edged frill which gives added piquancy to the accessory.

Among the simplest and most charming effects found in blouses is that in which the neck is simply gathered on a cord whose ends are of course beaded.

We say, of course, because it is remarkable to note the part played by beads in summer's smart neckwear. Here, for instance, slipped under a hem-stitched Gladstone collar of white Georgette crepe is a black velvet ribbon supporting a ring, from which dangle a number of long colored beads. When, too, there is simply a cord slipped under this ubiquitous collar, the ends are almost invariably strung with some brilliant bit of glass.

The popular high girdle is the accessory upon which we hang at present many of our smartest styles. There are girdles to which are attached little tunics jutting out recklessly from the short coat of the season. There are girdles of delicate-toned taffeta which come with their dainty panniers all ready for wear with the lingerie frock. There are girdles with suspenders and there are girdles which are cutaway in points like a waistcoat.

One famous designer is using quarter-inch hems on her spring frocks and all the world is talking about it—as though there were any hard and fast rule for the width of a skirt or tunic hem. The consensus of opinion seems to be, however, that the tiny hems on skirts of very soft silken stuff give a rather pleasing effect. A frock of abstin green tango crepe, for example, has five gathered flounces and all of these flounces and the narrow skirt have hems exactly a quarter inch deep. The skirt is slashed to reveal the buttoned walking or dancing boot—for naturally a narrow, unslashed skirt with such a narrow hem would not withstand the least strain resulting from too long a step.

Neck Finishes.
The pointed neck opening seen on so many blouses and gowns is becoming to most women, and especially to the woman with the short neck. The standing ruffles and soft folds, the soft embroidered collars edged with frills, the ruffled fichus laid in folds that finish and help to fill in the open neck make it liked by women who have heretofore avoided it.

MORE FULLNESS IN PETTICOAT

Newest Designs Will Allow Wearer Comparatively Comfortable Freedom of Movement.

The new silhouette, which calls for fullness between the waistline and a point slightly below the knees, permits the construction of petticoats which are full enough to "give" sufficiently over the knees to prevent any tearing out. These new skirts have a blouse effect where the upper section is joined to the plaited flounce—which is of extremely narrow measurement. Some of these flounces are plaited in such a way that they cling snugly to the legs, but will expand when special movements require it.

These new skirts are made of plain and changeable messaline, of crepe de chine, of soft-finished taffeta and of silk jersey. The silk jersey petticoats, however, have more give to the material and, for this reason, these models have been more successful than any others in the former straight-cut designs.

DAINTY HOUSE GOWN

Model of accordion-plaited chiffon short sacque of flowered taffeta.

Black and White Suits.
Larger ever than the checks of a corporation president are the checks of the coat suits being much affected for smart street wear. Black and white is the favored combination and in both the huge checks and wide stripes this color contrast develops costumes that are startlingly chic and striking. It is with these toilettes of light and shade that the black shoe has its one inning. With a costume like this the black patent kid oxford or colonial pump is the really smart finish to a white silk stocking.

Usual Combinations.
The introduction of black and white as an interior background has brought about many interior designs in wallpaper and cretonne. One combination that ought to be effective is shown by a decorator who has an eye for adapting European ideas to American taste. He uses wallpaper of oyster white in strips three inches wide of plain and ornate finish alternating.

With this he uses hangings of cretonne with a gray-white background and a rambling all-over pattern of large conventionalized floral figures in gray and black.

Buttons Covered.
Needing some buttons for a sheer white muslin dress, writes a Christian Science Monitor reader, it occurred to me to take some small white buttons which are cloth-covered and come three dozen for five cents, and cover them with bits of the insertion with which the dress was trimmed. The buttons when finished were very attractive and suitable for any nice dress.

TWO SPLENDID NEW CANDIES

Country Ginger a Substitute for the Present Variety—Preparation of Cherry Morsels.

Country Ginger.—This is an excellent substitute for the ordinary preserved ginger, and it is quite easy to prepare at a comparatively little expense, carrots being the chief ingredient. White carrots are preferable, but in their stead small yellow ones will answer equally well. Select a pound of carrots of fine texture and boil them for ten minutes, scrape off the outer rind, remove the points and the core and cut into pieces about a quarter of an inch thick. Boil these until they are quite tender, changing the water several times. Add two pounds of sugar, one quart of water, two ounces of green ginger root cut very fine, and the juice and grated rind of one lemon. Boil the mixture for 15 minutes. Allow it to stand overnight and boil again; repeat this process for three days until the sirup is very thick. Finally heat the sirup and strain it, leave it to harden, cut into cubes, roll them in granulated sugar and place them on a tray in a warm oven to dry. The oven must be just hot enough to dry the cubes quickly.

Cherry Morsels.—Boil together in an enamel saucepan two cupsful of sugar, a quarter of a cake of chocolate grated fine, a cupful of cream and two tablespoonfuls of butter, stirring all well together until a drop of the mixture tried in cold water hardens into a soft ball. Add to this one teaspoonful of lemon extract, one teaspoonful of almond extract and a cupful of preserved cherries chopped fine. Finally, take the saucepan off the fire, stir the mixture until it is smooth and creamy and drop into paper cases or tiny tins. When nearly hard decorate each ball with quarters of preserved cherries and a little granulated sugar.

HINTS FOR BUSY HOUSEWIFE

How to Give Cauliflower a Better Flavor—Softening Shoe Polish—Smoking Oil Stoves.

To give cauliflower a better flavor cook it in milk and water—it will also look whiter than when just cooked in water.

To insure the bluing being evenly distributed in making blue rinse water for clothes, add a little salt to it.

To soften shoe polish that has become quite dry in keeping, moisten it with a little turpentine. This softens the polish, making it usable at once, and also gives a good gloss to the leather.

To prevent oil stoves from smoking, dissolve one tablespoonful of common salt in every pint of paraffin oil that you use. This gives a much cleaner light, and prevents the stove from rusting when stored away.

Snowflake Fritters.
Beat two eggs well, add one and one-half cupfuls flour and knead well. Flour the breadboard thoroughly and roll out very thin as for vermicelli. Cut into oblong strips about five inches long and in center of each cut a cross. Throw into boiling lard or rendered butter, fry quickly, turn and remove. Sprinkle them with powdered sugar and serve on platter. They look very dainty and are all curled up. Serve with side dishes of any kind of fruit.

Pineapple Pie.
Grate a large pineapple and mix it with two cupfuls of sugar. Add the well-beaten yolks of three eggs, two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and one and one-half cupfuls of sweet cream. Bake in a rich crust, add a meringue made with the whites of the eggs beaten stiff, with six tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, and flavored with pineapple extract. Return to the oven to brown.

Boneless Birds.
Take a piece of round steak, cut in pieces three inches wide and three or four inches long. Make a dressing of bread crumbs, a little onion, pepper, salt and butter; then roll this in the pieces of steak. Put together with toothpicks and fry in lard. When both sides are brown, pour boiling water over and simmer about two hours. Serve hot.

Home Chili Sauce.
A dozen tomatoes, eight green peppers, two onions, a half dozen small chili peppers. Will make two or three bottles or about a quart.

Boil three cups of good vinegar and put into it the vegetables fine chopped and salted to taste. Boil an hour and a half and bottle without straining. More may be made but proportions are the same.

Wounded Beets.
No doubt every housewife knows she should not break the skin of the beet roots before boiling or they will be almost white instead of a nice deep red. Perhaps all do not know that if the raw beet root should be bruised or broken a touch with a red hot poker will form a new skin.

Peaches and Cream.
Cut choice, ripe peaches in halves, remove the stones, fill the cavities with sugar, arrange on a pretty serving dish, cover with whipped cream and serve.

Good Covering for Shelves.
Try common floor oilcloth for your pantry shelves. It stays in place, wears longer, and can be cleaned very easily.

ANCIENTS KNEW OF GLAZING

Proof That Early Inhabitants of Mexico Used Process in the Manufacture of Pottery.

The discovery by Henry C. Mercer of Daylestown, Pa., that the ancient inhabitants of Mexico used a glazing process in the manufacture of their pottery has revolutionized the views of ceramic experts at the University of Pennsylvania, and may lead, says American Art News, to the discovery of beds of clay suitable for use today.

Mr. Mercer, who is an expert on tiling, and a former curator of the University museum, during a recent study of Mexican potteries at the museum, had his attention called to the variance in workmanship in certain collections. He promptly classified the potteries as possessing two different kinds of clay, and was surprised to find that a distinct glaze was still apparent.

The ancient Egyptians, says Mr. Mercer, did not glaze their works, the Chinese adopted this precaution at a later date to make their vessels impervious to water. Civilization had been established by this time, however, and the use of the glazing art by prehistoric Mexicans may unfold interesting ceramics.

ERUPTION ON CHILD'S BODY

R. F. D. No. 2, Jackson, Mo.—"Our daughter who is ten months old was suffering from an eruption all over the body. In the beginning they were small red spots and afterwards turned to bloody sores. We tried all sorts of ointments but they did not procure any relief for our child. She cried almost day and night and we scarcely could touch her, because she was covered with sores from head to foot.

"We had heard about the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and made a trial with them, and after using the remedies, that is to say, the Soap and the Ointment, only a few days passed and our child could sleep well and after one week she was totally well." (Signed) August F. Bartels, Nov. 25, 1912.

STOP THAT BACKACHE

There's nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. You are lame when you awake. Pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to rest and next day it's the same old story.

Pain in the back is nature's warning of kidney ills. Neglect may pave the way to dropsy, gravel, or other serious kidney sickness.

Don't delay—begin using Doan's Kidney Pills—the remedy that has been curing backache and kidney trouble for over fifty years.

A MICHIGAN CASE

Peter Loucks, Leelanau St., Frankfort, Mich., says: "I had awful backaches brought on by hard work. I couldn't control the kidney secretions and in the morning I was so stiff and sore I could hardly get out of bed. My back ached terribly and I tried to stoop, had sharp twinges. I often got so dizzy that I almost toppled over. After the doctors had failed, I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and six boxes cured me."
